General, and General Governors
OF IRELAND,
A PROCLAMATION.

Winchester, Gallway,

W

H E R E A S many Inconveniencies have happened to the Revenue of Inland Excise and Licences in this Kingdom, by Souldiers, Brewing and Selling Ale, for which divers Summs are now remaining in Arrear, and in danger of being lost. And whereas the same hath likewise been of great prejudice to His Majesty's Service, by causing a neglect of their Duty in such Souldiers, and inducing others to mispend their Pay or Subsistance. For remedy of the said Inconveniencies, We do think fit hereby to Direct and Require the Colonels, or Commanding Officers of the several Regiments in this Kingdom, to take effectual care, that no Serjeant, Corporal, or Souldier in their respective Regiments be for the future permitted to Brew or Sell any Ale, Beer, or Strong-Waters, and likewise that no Wife of any such be permitted to Brew or Sell Ale, Beer, or Strong-Waters, within any Garison or Quarter, where the Troop or Company, to which her Husband does belong, shall be Quartered. And Our further Pleasure is that the Commissioners of His Majesty's Revenue, and all Collectors, Sub-Commissioners, and other Officers therein concerned, do take care when ever they shall Discover any Souldier belonging to His Majesty's Army to Brew or Sell Ale, Beer, or Strong-Waters, not only to acquaint therewith the Officer Commanding in Chief in any Garison or Quarter, where the same shall happen, but also to put the Laws of Excise immediatly in Execution against the persons Brewing or Selling as aforesaid. And to the end Our Pleasure herein may be the more publickly known, We hereby require the Sheriffs of the several Counties, Cities and Towns in this Kingdom, to caule this Our Proclamation to be Published and Affixed in the most publick Places within their respective Counties, as in such cases are usual.

Given at His Majesty's Castle of Dublin, the 14th Day of October 1697.

By Their Excellency's Command.
